

Hearts for Emma

We are proud and excited to be offering college scholarships to rising high school seniors through two New Jersey institutions.

Our scholarship program provides an opportunity to recognize and award graduating high school seniors who advocate for and/or whose lives have been touched by organ and tissue donation and transplantation. The applicant must have a connection to organ and tissue donation in order to be considered for the scholarships.

Available scholarships:

Cranford High School in Cranford, New Jersey

Open for any Cranford High rising senior students who meet the criteria. Applicants need to use their own school portal log in under scholarships to access the application. Please ask your guidance counselor if you have further questions about this particular scholarship.

NJ Sharing Network Foundation

Open for any New Jersey rising high school seniors, whether private or public school.

The 2024 Scholarship Application Process will open on or about December 15, 2023. Please check back mid December 2023 for further information. Click here for reference to last year's application.
